Comedy and Juggling, Unicycling and Bad Judgment.

Comedy Industries

Scott Meltzer and Katrine Spang-Hansen specialize in customized comedy shows for corporate and social events. Their highly interactive style combines jokes and juggling tricks with lots of audience participation. They have performed extensively internationally, in multiple languages, and can easily adapt their show to non-native English speakers. For trade shows, training sessions and sales meetings Comedy Industries can incorporate your company's marketing and technology messages and develop a custom presentation that will make sure attendees both laugh and learn. And at after dinner shows, awards banquets and private parties they can create a show tailored especially for you.
