

Heath Hyché

Heath Hyché's standup comedy is a non-stop ride through time with a cavalcade of characters you will never forget. You're sure to enjoy the original handmade props and scenery that bring each character to life! A native of Birmingham, Alabama, Heath was bitten by the acting bug when he wore a giant orange costume as his high school's mascot, even though the school's nickname was the Vikings. His first big break came when he was at Auburn University and won "The Funniest Person on Campus" contest. From there Hyché performed at an open-mic audition at the Birmingham Comedy Club and has been a working standup ever since.
